

Is the Total Revenue of both Networking Equipment sub Sector More and IT Consulting & Other Services increasing or decreasing ?

Here are the histograms for the Total Revenue of CSCO in the Networking Equipment sub sector, and IBM in the IT Consulting & Other Services sub sector from year 1 to predicted years 5 and 6.

Both distribution is left-Skewed because for both the mean is less than the Median.

In year 1, for CSCO (Networking Equipment) the total revenue was $48 million then started to collapse on the second year. However, it started to increase in year 4 then 5 as the trending line shows. On the Other hand, in year 1 for IBM (IT Consulting & Other Services) the total revenue was $102 million. However, from year 2 to 4 it started to decrease as the trending line shows. To conclude, the total revenue is increasing throughout the years for CSCO (Networking Equipment) , but it is decreasing for IBM (IT Consulting & Other Services).